

UTUNES

Students in digital music will work with a variety of multimedia programs to create their own music using loops, similar to rap, techno and dance music. They will also investigate some basic music theory and will be able to share and compare their new songs with their classmates and friends. Hopefully, they will be able to produce their own CD by the end of the semester.